Listening to Unheard Voices

On 17 October 1987, in the presence of 100,000 activists, Joseph Wresinski, founder of the International Movement All Together in Dignity (ATD), unveiled a Commemorative Stone on the Trocadero Human Rights Plaza in Paris. On this marble Wresinski's call is engraved:

“Wherever men and women are condemned to live in poverty, human rights are violated. To come together to ensure that these rights are respected is our solemn duty.”

Since then, this commemorative stone has become a rallying point for people from all walks of life. 17 October was declared “International Day for the Eradication of Poverty” by the United Nations in 1992.

The 17 October 2008 saw the unveiling of a commemorative stone on Custom House Quay near the Famine Memorial in Dublin.

On the 17 October every year, we come together in Ireland and around the world in friendship and solidarity with those who face chronic and severe poverty, honouring their struggles and renewing our determination to work for a world where everyone's human rights and human dignity are respected.

A Human Rights Framework for 17 Goals

In September 2012, the UN Human Rights Council adopted the Guiding Principles on Extreme Poverty and Human Rights. They provide global policy guidelines focusing specifically on the human rights of people living in poverty. It is the first internationally agreed text to stress the central message of the UN Day on 17 October: extreme poverty exists in every country in the world, and it is both a cause and a consequence of multiple human rights violations.

On 25 September 2015, after crucial work by the Irish Ambassador at the UN, world leaders have agreed to 17 Global Goals to achieve major transformations in the next 15 years: end extreme poverty, fight inequalities and injustices, limit climate change and protect the planet. The historic 17 Global Goals for Sustainable Development can make all this possible in all countries and for all people.

"It is my hope that by 2030, we will look back on the 25th of September 2015 as a decisive moment in global history; a moment when the nations of the world united to secure peace, to deliver freedom, equality and human rights for all and to eradicate poverty and hunger, to achieve a human flourishing in a sustainable and peaceful planet in all its diversity."

The President of Ireland, Michael D Higgins, 24 Sept 2015

Ireland Marks #EndPoverty Day

Growing Together
to Leave
No One Behind!

Moving from humiliation and exclusion to participation: ending poverty in all its forms - The 2016 calls of the UN Day invite us to fully understand poverty in all its forms. Policy makers must focus attention on key non-material aspects of poverty— such as shame, humiliation and social exclusion — that affect people’s lives and their human dignity. Within the Global Goals development framework all countries commit to “ending poverty in all its forms everywhere” (Goal 1) by 2030. To achieve Goal 1 with all the other goals we have to transform our world, transform ourselves and learn even more to work together! We have to grow together to Leave No One Behind!
